

10: Inmate KO

01

02

03 E- How are you?

04 K- I'm fine, thank you. How are you?

05 E- Good, good. Thanks for coming. Right, first question. How would you describe Makeright course?

06 K- Mmm cliché one. Amazing mmmm intriguing actually to tell the truth. Actually because it wasn't what I expected literally it was difficult at the beginning but got really fun at the end creation wise.

FIRST sentence

07 E- And why wasn't it what you expected - in which ways...?

08 K- There was a lot of paper drawing, like a lot of paper designing, way too much and drawing a lot and I don't like drawing a lot except from computer yes that's why. And that process itself, it turns out preparation is a lot more work than the actual making of the bag. So that's why it was draining at the beginning but the end result was ok that's why.

09 E- What did you take from it or what did you make of it?

10 K- I learned a lot because at the end of the day my sister like I say is doing laundry soon so I can give her some advice on designing and for the fact that you guys told us having safety on items that you create because obviously prevents thieves or victims having to lose their properties. So I guess yes, I learned quite a few things.

F- Family/friends

G-Giving

11 E- What did you like and dislike? What would you change?

12 K- None actually 'cause technically remember I wasn't here for about like the two weeks. Two weeks wasn't enough 'cause I kind of mixed the other classes that was going on 'cause I had other classes of my own so when I was here it was fun was creative, insightful and exciting when I was here. I don't know what happened when I wasn't here but, yes.

13 E- How was it coming back?

14 K- Stressful, because everybody has surpassed me literally. Like, we -what's the thing we did the... profiles? Personas? That we did, I found that everybody has done their personas, designed it, wrote their what if there is a document we got what about your document you like, what you change, what elements etc. things basically to do your bag and I wasn't here for the procedure to be explained. I mean, don't get me wrong, when I did come and I had R, she explained quite a few of things to me so she put me up to date thanks... mmmm, yes I did find it hard but I had J -is this name right? J the gentleman, he helped me design the actual paper prototype with I forgot the other guy's name.

L-learning

L-learning

15 Erika- W, J? One of the volunteers or...?

16 K- Yes. Slim tall one that was working with J.

17 E- S?

18 K- Yes, S. Yeah he helped me great help him and J help me make the paper prototype. I was struggling literally because when I came in everyone has made paper prototypes I was looking and thinking ok I thought we were thinking design bags never knew we were going to make papers.

self confidence

19 E- Oh, so you weren't even informed about that?

20 K- No, no. Like oh, ok I learned I missed a lot and I was like dude like was explaining to us, to you, not to me was J saw me struggling trying to copy A's bag and no you don't copy otherwise you do your own. So, yes he helped me create a paper prototype which was awesome. S helped me perfect it which was funny 'cause them two have a different design kind of way but at the end of the day when is finished it looks good combined together and I did one for myself to show them that I actually was listening what they were teaching me. Yeah, was like I say was entertaining and then I got R to help me with the first dummy prototype which was trying to put the materials 'cause mine was an iPad pouch so trying to make it stand up without actually putting paper in the middle to make it standard was just was annoying, literally seriously annoying but I had sewn it but the paper so that anyone when I am trying to do that gets caught and then do it again and then is like mmmm yes....

C-collaboration~

L-learning

21 E- Tests your patience...?

22 K- Yes it did! And once I do the overlocking as well I was thinking ok I'm good at overlocking but then when you put the thing 'cause I'm trying to put the paper out so it doesn't break you know it got stuck so I say ok breath in breath in so I was pulling, pull it out. I had to screw the whole thing just to take it out, I'm not giving up, literally I sat there the whole lesson and end of it I just thought I'm not going to do it.

23 E- Do you think your patience was enhanced during this process?

24 K- Yes extremely extremely, seriously this is like a form of anger management control. Like forget yoga, this is yoga 'cause literally is ahhh put in specially the fact that when you are trying to get your material sewn around the edges you are trying to make it look so good 'cause the ... you need to saw it inside out and when you are trying to sew inside out, need to make sure than the edge aligns perfect so it looks good when you turn it the other way around. 'Cause you are trying to make sure that you get the edge - but not in the edge, a little bit off the edge and then when accidentally you make a mistake you have to start all over again with the unpicker. So, no is literally a good patience test.

S-self control

25 E- Have you experienced this type of project before?

26 K- No, I went to the British Museum but this is totally different.

27 E- What did you do at the British Museum?

28 K- We did projects but that's for the young use and we designed a couple of sculptures ah... we even had a day when we went to Scotland we did our own archaeology. It was fun, we did find bones and xyz. We had, like I said designed sculptures and designing templates with papers so I kind of did the paper thing but not the way it was taught here, here like 3D kind of effects over there was yes for fun. There was no perfection needed - was just like create whatever you can if it sucks, it sucks it's just ... unclear. It's different extremely.

L-learning

29 E- Was that in school?

30 K- No... no... was actually applied through the British Museum just to do work experience. No, wait. I lied, I lied sorry - I was in college and our college was chosen by the borough to represent the borough so we worked with the British Museum after we finished a project with them talking project they decided to select few of us that came across to them that wanted to do work at the museum 'cause our interest to actually work with them. Although lot of our friends were like yeah why do you want to work for old fossils mate - kind of boring working in the museum. They had no idea obviously the museum is actually fun. I mean I sound like a nerd when I say it but it is fun literally, is literally fun besides people what the tourists and visitors see at the top is not what we actually get to do at the bottom. You actually do fun things, like we actually do play with projects and try and make things come alive but not really alive obviously --- version you got cameras and lasers doing things at the bottom is literally fun. Obviously they are trying to do the next generation of imaging for the museum. They haven't done it yet but they are trying to and were using us as a dummies to look try and see design things and what not ... was a good experience.

L-learning

31 E- What did you do?

- 32 K- I studied Business Studies, I studied IT and maths and English.
- 33 E- How was college and school? Did you go to school?
- 34 K- Yeah... I went to one of the worst schools in north London, X School.
- 35 E- Why is it the worst?
- 36 K- Technically is the worst for bad people.
- 37 E- Is it? But you enjoyed it?
- 38 K-Yeah. Yeah. I regret a lot of stuff I did but I enjoyed it. I have been told not to regret stuff so kind of learning now that I should appreciate everything that I have done in life but interesting to say the least.
- 39 E- So what did you enjoy at school and what didn't you enjoy?
- 40 K- Training in the Arsenal Academy, then quitting ah... I did I learned how to I was doing athletics as well and I was doing amateur boxing so was fun. Yeah, made a lot of friends. A couple of them are dead now but so is life, rest in peace.
- 41 E- I am sorry to hear that.
- 42 K- Mmmm ... I wasn't here in a way. I'm kind of happy that I wasn't here because if I was I may be with them right now because we were really close people. Usually when someone, one of us was in trouble, we all tend to get involved which again most things I regret. I learned the lessons from it but just life it happens. Funny enough if you actually go in YouTube you see me and my school, it's labeled one of the worst school in the UK.
- 43 E- Is that because of gang culture ? Or is the education not very good?
- 44 K- No... no... the teachers are really pleasant. They tried, they didn't sit there. They actually tried to help us in every way possible but, yeah... literally at that age all we thought about and excuse my words girls (laughs) what not and smoking weed, making easy money and also getting in trouble a lot sad to say but that was all that it was in our minds at that time. Teachers did help. I had one of them nicest teaching I can possible say in secondary school Mr X South African man generally nice guy. Nevertheless we were troublesome. some people were spitting on him, again regret a lot of stuff I did, some people try hit him one thing we did not encourage is if you try to hit Mr X we would get angry because was a nice guy. Don't get me wrong we disrespected him when he was teaching nobody paid attention and X would be in the table playing mobile or the techs

E- emplo/Entrepren

L-learning

L-learning

M - Maturing

I- Identity

that we had at the time or, ahem, doing things with girls in class again not proud of it yes genuinely.

45 E- So in the middle of this ... what was he trying to teach?

46 K- He was teaching us geography actually. Yeah... was one of my favourite subjects ... because it was him that was teaching it. He took his time to actually teach it literally if we were causing nuisances and trouble he would genuinely, sit down, advise us, and if we still being loud and rude he waited patiently and when we were quiet stop and teach again. He is not one to actually yell over a kid or he was patient with people 'cause obviously he knew the school was for kids with difficulties in learning and troublesome kids and... so he was actually understanding. He was trying to make a difference in our lives not just put on pressure in any other teacher or our parents when you do wrong, yell at you or hit you, no. He was just there to actually find out what you want to do in the future. I had a lot of time one-to-one where me and him spoke. He did try a lot to help me get out of a little predicament I was in stick over crowd and all that nonsense. I did manage to finally get out when I went year 9 was too late though 'cause I kept having fights constantly. Literally like I said I do regret a lot of stuff because I accidentally not proud of, some kid this is why I said if I was here I would have got involved. For example, there was a kid that hit one of my younger friends and let's just say his parents had to take him to hospital - his skull was cracked, my parents paid for the operation it was an accident kind of things. Wasn't really an accident technically, I did physically abuse the kid but yeah basically, yes.

47 E- Yes that's what happens... didn't realize at the time...

48 K- Think about it now, if I knew the knowledge I know now I wouldn't have done it but is all down to manners, I guess. What you are bringing up I guess 'cause I did rebel a lot, I'm not going to lie.

I- Identity
M - Maturing

49 E- It's the environment as well, I guess?

50 K- Yeah... but I generally I don't - I can't have any excuses any more to say why I did what I did because was stupid to do, just stupidity just dumb. Because I shouldn't have done anything what I did regardless of the reputation and all that nonsense - is not worth it generally it's not worth it.

51 E- When did that happen? When did that change happen in your mind?

52 K- Mmm... sadly enough I got sent back to Africa. My parents got fed up, Mr X got fed up so they kind of ... after I got arrested by the police, this was when I was 14, for gang-related issues so my mum and dad decided that we had to actually the whole family said I got sent back to Africa this without realizing that my granny is alive. I love her so met her for the first year. Went there, came back and was excited to go back 'cause my granny so they used her to get me back to Africa and when I got there but stubborn kid obviously and my ticket 'cause I knew they were trying to make me stay there. Ok so I got there and my granny now lovely lady she asked for the passport ticket so I trust her don't blame her whatsoever obviously at first I did I was pissed off at her, excuse my French. Yeah they did for six months I did cry yadarara couldn't any more so I just gave back, there was no point literally 'cause just sat down and think. Oh interesting fact - apparently I went into a coma I think you know when people die apparently for 24 hours literally I lost my own life because my brain couldn't comprehend with what was going on I was like apparently I was having a battle with myself ... so yeah... after which came out somehow different, a little bit wiser I guess and realize everything I was doing wasn't really what I wanted to do, I wanted to do something better with myself couldn't at the time near the fact that my dad was so stubborn. Begged him like a cow 'nope' so I stayed there for three years decided to do my education there. Funny enough it turned to be so easy, over there was like a piece of cake for me still that helped my dad thinking oh yeah he's changed 'cause I was focusing on school there although preceded. Anyway I did do bricklaying and painting and decorating course --- came back here 2008 deleted all contacts from all friends and girls that I hanged around with hmmm... went to college just to impress my dad ... still trying and yeah.. That's how I made it to the British Museum. Not going to lie 2010 I started again. This time wasn't drugs-related just alcohol and parties weed and then hit me again and then that reality hit me again completely so then this can't continue 'cause obviously yes my dad won't be sending me back but at the same time I won't benefit from anything if I continue doing what I am doing. So I told my mum and dad - listen, I am going to move out of the house, I will live with uncle and auntie my uncle is struck he takes no nonsense, doesn't matter how old I am he will smack me. Yeah, seriously he did actually smack me a lot of times. Yeah, no I had to change I genuinely had to say enough I'm here but hey life goes on.

M - Maturing

53 E- Do you think you had the tools this time?

54 K- To make sure I never do what I have done? And end up here again I would say yes but then I have idea what the future - me, all I can do is try.

55 E- And how do you try? What are the tools that you have encountered lately, what do you think?

56 K- Learn... do a lot of ... put myself in better situations I guess I genuinely my studies I'm doing now I'm about to start an engineering course obviously is a difficult thing and I'm hoping I see it through because I'm a person that I don't see things all the way through I see it half way and then give up so I'm trying to force myself to see things through, to actually see things through. Because is not for anybody else all I know now is for me at the end of the day sure I got a fiancé that she is gone to uni, she's got a degree my sister first class degree xyz family members. Am the only one literally that has a minimum degree, not one that can pay me a lot in this kind of situation so I can't be in a situation that I need to keep asking them for money or turning to them for things. So it's not pride it's just I'm ashamed of myself right now. I feel total shame for myself because I shouldn't be here but I can't dwell on the past and complain and argue, blame faults to who and what did this and that to me because at the end of the day it is genuinely my own fault I put myself in a situation that caused the reason why I am here. I should have just ignored said person but instead I stupidly followed my own temptations and what not. Its life, it happens but now honestly I am trying to make myself a better person. I know is easier said than done but I am genuinely trying and I am hoping it works out because if it doesn't I have nothing else to do the only thing I would actually I don't know I would break. A, B, C all the way to Z don't work there is no other letters in the alphabet but can't really start going 1 2 3 4 exactly no but it's silly literally I'm 26. It can't happen because yes people, don't get me wrong, since I come here I had ignorant people god forgive me I had people () saying they have done this and they have been here constantly and they are proud of it and I can tell by their tone they generally proud of it and I'm thinking - why in god's name would you be happy to be in a place like this? It makes no sense to me. I mean, don't get me wrong, yes situations happen, things happen that put people in certain places that you can't prevent but that's one lie I genuinely refuse to now to believe that you cannot help yourself whatever happens you would end up being that person. That's genuinely a lie I don't want to believe anymore 'cause I genuinely believe you can. Yes, you can't prevent everything, you can't plan everything I know this because planning for everything is what got me here but if you genuinely plan ahead of things and put yourself predicaments like oh, ok maybe if this happens how would I be able to prevent this or how can I prevent this from happening instead of making it happen and then you are sitting here question yourself, sorry ...

H-hope

H-hope

- 57 E- And it seems to me that one thing is that the mind-set change and the other one is the practical, logistic change... Do you think you are in the middle because you compare yourself with other people than they are here and then is just the ...?
- 58 K- Generally it's just, at the end of the day, I want to do better for myself but then I have so many negatives around me and it's stressful especially on the wing. It's draining, is seriously draining.

W-wellbeing

59 E- Does it helps to come here?

60 K- A huge amount, and I'm not just saying it because you are here or when I say it to Pras I genuinely mean it - makes serious difference getting out the wing and having a place where I can get my own thoughts and do things that... Yes I may not 100% want to go into sewing when I go out or design when I go out but is the mere fact that I can actually leave the wing and come here and do something different genuinely... it helps me because generally being on the wing is seriously draining you have people that are super proud of every wrong they have done and you have people who are genuinely picking on other people for what they have done and judging others like say their things they have done is picnic or nice things. We got is like example there is a guy on the wing he is seriously so cracky he is here for arms and xyz guns and murdering and what not and he feels the decency to actually judge me and other guys for our situations is just it makes me laugh and feel sorry for him at the same time because obviously when I was younger, I am not old but when I was a teenager I should say correction I genuinely was in his shoes. I used to G judge people. They things I used to do, I used to be proud of it and also always wanted to make sure people, to make sure they were in the same boat as me so I kind of that's why I sit back and I say ehmmm I technically can go understand what he is going through but at the same time is a choice. You don't have to do it. You don't have to. He chooses to do it, every single day he stresses out every other person because for him it makes himself feel better in the long run is not going to be fun for him one person is going to end up hitting him or stupid thing is going to occur. I had three guys that genuinely have beat me off to the ground literally wanted to I genuinely wanted to get up and hit them but I am not going to break the fact that I haven't had a fight with someone for over 17 years I can generally hold my patience for a long time. I generally can and sadly when I came here I broke that patience. I fought with a guy - it's on the system which is really annoying, it upset me. I hate fighting, I don't see the fun of fighting any more - it makes no sense. It generally doesn't it makes no sense to me why you would not you someone who want to fight me or someone why would you want to hit someone. What fun is it at the end of the day I'm going to be injured or the person is getting injured. What pleasure did I get from that? I am still going to be left with scars, that person is going to be left with scars but their I don't know, I don't know and trust me it's going to be last time in prison. But other people deal differently. It's stressful for me don't trying to do things that I can occupy myself with generally .

61 E- So these things you occupy yourself with - have you done any courses in prison? Is this different from the other learning experiences you had?

62 K- Yes, is actually interacting more and its encouraging and a lot more stress related here not saying because you were here but because I can design

W- wellbeing

I- Identity

L- learning

W- wellbeing

something without being judged, without being told is wrong or right just make it is your design your mind you do what you want so it was it was a breath of fresh air people say it was an opportunity for me to be me to do something design something that I wanted to design without actually having someone look at it and say - aah yeah dude is crap, seriously crap or - dude really? You could have done better mate. It was actually fun.

self confidence

63 E- Is that unique in prison? Do you have any other opportunities in prison work?

64 K- Obviously no, since I have been here for my ... no there is no way here where you can design stuff for your own self or do something that you actually end up don't get me wrong my own bag 'cause I had enough time I'm not 100% but for the mere fact, in fact I wasn't proud of my xxx, I wasn't actually proud of it but again I keep mentioning R's name but she kept putting a smile in my face. You helped, Pras as well and Lorraine. You guys looked at it and somehow sort of saw a bag from it - 'cause I saw a square with a strap attached to it literally. A was arguing about it as well - he was like yeah is good, is a bag, is an iPad bag .

H-hope

C-collaboration~

H-hope

65 E- We imagine the potential, we can see it - because it's the idea which we are looking for.

66 K- Same thing R said, same thing A said. I was - you guys are just trying to be nice aren't you 'cause literally look at it! I argued both of them I was arguing for 10 minutes it is terrible. I mean it's not the worst but is not good.

67 E- I mean, it's the idea we are designers here.

68 K- I know we are not perfecting things that's exactly what R said. Listen, at the end of the day you are not trying to perfect it. This is your first time actually designing something. Look it as a work in progress, look at it as a positive. So I sat down look at the bag look at it upside down and yeahhh this is what I wanted to make yeahhh I love it so yeah it was fun it was good.

B- believe

69 E- What experiences and knowledge did you think you brought to this, to this mix?

70 K- Patience... like, what I got from it, right? Not what I brought?

71 E- What did you gain and what did you bring in, as well?

72 K- What I brought in... no I had no experiences in anything really... honestly. I generally give up I had I don't know how the guys in the wing say the time of the year. I had a moment where I didn't care about anything or anyone excuse me for saying 'cause I went for a little ... with my fiancé and it bugged me it literally

...with my fiancé and bugged me drained the hell out of me. So I didn't care a lot but then doing this helped took my mind out of it really took my mind out of it. It taught me to be patient and understanding and also stop looking at life as a straight forward route. Realize it bumps and bruises in the head regardless of what I am going to do genuinely. 'Cause I generally do is all right... is ok so far... (Unclear) but now is like mmm ok maybe yes.... (laughs) so yes this literally changed my mind a lot of things it's surprising for what guys that do it thought said to me going through it myself oh ok I get it G when he told me is draining but the end result is best. Come on, you are old and easy you guys get tired way too easy I'm young exciting, I can build this in my sleep. No I couldn't do it in my sleep I couldn't finish it. G, at least he finished it when I was talking to him the other day. I explained that I finally finished my bag and - 'Really? Did you actually finish it?' 'No... I didn't actually finish it. I did a prototype!' 'Did you finish the prototype?' 'No, I didn't finish that either - I almost finished it.' Is like wooh - things turn mate. You were laughing at mine and now look at you. I was like that's not what you are meant to be saying over the phone mate well done you did ok but was like no, no I'm not sure is fun I'm not going to lie it's been exciting, draining but exciting.

U-uncertainty

B- believe

self confidence

73 E- That's amazing that you are still in contact with G. So what did he tell you? I get it now... What is that thing that you said changed your mind?

74 K- Oh... seriously patience.

75 E-Patience and not seeing it as straight...?

76 K- Yes because me and him were close. When I get here he was the one who helped me get come to terms with my actual situation. Generally he kept saying listen, life is not straight forward you plan for things but they don't turn out how you want. The only thing you need to do is move on, move on to the next thing. Don't just sit there and keep crying for sob and feel sorry for yourself, move on. Is easy for him to say - we argued a lot - is easy for him to say because he knows now what he wants to do. I still trying to figure out what I want to do. Do I want to be I mean I know ... who exactly I want to be. I still have no idea I'm not going to lie because I want to do much stuff. I want to be and help a lot of people I got a lot of ideas but am I actually going to execute all ideas or most of those ideas that's the question (...) and the judge simple kept telling me listen, the fact that you keep questioning yourself means you are a decent person if you have a lot of time practice, take chances don't be disappointed when they fails. Keep moving up and smiling and then he obviously told me come to this course 'cause you see what I mean I was like ok... what kind of a course would do that obviously yes, I didn't know before now I know. I kept questioning him not only me and his other cellmate keep questioning him - dude you are chatting rubbish mate ,you can't gain that from one thing generally common design usually

B- believe

H-hope

M - Maturing

design you know is like you need to draw things and make things. Why you going to gain patience, design you already got in your head what you going to do, no? That's what I presumed design was - you have something in your head and (clap) you going to left to yourself to do it not have people telling you you have to do it this way or that way and is like ammmm not in my head mate, you don't know what I'm going to do, who was that lady J? J? Ammmm I'm not going to lie she test me, she test me a lot them things that we did with papers I already see how I want to do in my head. Listen, I can do this listened to you you have gone and explained what we should do let me do my way and no no no you don't understand do it this way and you will see why ... noooo! I want to do it my way just do it do it the way I said, trust me you will know why. So I did it her way and yes... sadly she was right funny that too because she didn't even say I told you so she just said well done and I said you are going to tell me I told you so. NooO we don't do that here but later on she did say ha ha I told you so...(laughs). I did really enjoy the company of all volunteers because they brought each of them literally brought something to the table - is not that they were just here to learn as well or ahmmm look at what we were doing the genuinely just brought they bring a lot of things to the table in their own way literally - I know I keep mentioning her name , yes - R, she was just bubbly. She was like a spirit booster, like when you are down, she generally just somehow make people seem more cheerful and then you had C she is just she seems quiet but she hits home seriously and then you got M with her bubbly attitude as well literally, then I forgot her name lady's name. She was shy she was completely shy?

 B- believe
 L-learning

E- L?

77

78 K- Yes! She was shy but when you actually talked to her she opens up, she does interact. And then you had the guys obviously they were obviously guys will always going to be guys, they like stressing you out completely.

79 E- How did you feel because I saw you helped some of the volunteers? They are not all fashion designers or they are not all familiar with these machines. How did you find helping them as well?

80 K- Yes, was actually I was surprised like J I was shocked, like ' I don't know how to use a sewing machine and I'm like - what?! You are a designer and you don't know how to use the machines? It was funny when I was teaching him, he is nah... one thing I did learn even as a student you technically can be a teacher is never late to learn regardless who you are, what you have done is always a space to learn a room to learn more. Like J, he taught us a lot of stuff but he learned a lot of things too, ying and yang like catch 22 thing it was interesting like again C, R... I taught them how to use the machines and overlocking I was like ok you guys should know how to use these things, you are designers!

 C-collaboration~
 L-learning

They were like nooo --- designer or computer designers but this is fun so when they get to actually saw the things themselves they got excited so it made me feel good. It made me feel real good, yep, I can be the teacher too. So I'm a teacher too, you are not the only teachers here (...) Yes I felt real good to tell J as well I showed J I was like student is becoming a master! No, but they were friendly they were really, really good team.

81 E- What were you comfortable and uncomfortable with?

82 K- The environment comfortable because I was warm and welcoming situation. Uncomfortable ahmmm that at the end that wasn't comfortable that put me in a very uncomfortable situation.

83 E- What - the presentation?

84 K- No, no the little predicament we had with the two gentlemen that generally really upset me. It got sorted out, I guess. It something that really frightens me about this prison - conflicts. You do not know what's in other minds, other guys' heads. You are joking and what not but its literally like - honestly, I don't know if you and Pras see it - but on the wings you think everyone is probably nice to each other you may see everyone getting a lot shouting, laughing etc but couple of minutes later someone is getting beaten up in his cell. And it's like you question and thinking hold on - but these two guys were almost like best friends literally close. You see them every day together making jokes and laughing and sharing things and going each other's cells all the time and suddenly you turn around a group of 8 guys are beating up one guy, the same guy that was best friends with them. It literally, it frightens me I mean, don't get me wrong if comes down to it no I'm not a... or chicken or whatever is called but I hate violence. I literally hate violence, literally makes me uncomfortable when people argue.

85

86 E- Do you think this project has any effect? Are the differences here managed differently than on the wing?

87 K- Here ,everyone just feels chilled and relaxed until we have a first one that comes and ruins it for us mmmm and obviously if you have a clown that jumps out and is doing his own thing everyone tries to defuse the situation but if the person doesn't want to...

